

Original at: <http://www.freep.com/apps/pbcs.dll/article?AID=/20080713/ENT07/807130503>

July 13, 2008

Triumphantly Trump

by John Smyntek

Feeling like a failure? Then invest in the August/September issue of Success magazine, where mogul Donald Trump emotes on living life triumphantly as follows:

Keeping professional and family life balanced:

"When I'm with my family, they have quality time with me. When I'm working, I'm working."

Childhood influences:

"The military academy was terrific for me. I had my first lessons in negotiating because of a very tough drill sergeant."

His famous punch line, "You're fired":

"That was spontaneous, it wasn't scripted. I was surprised it caught on like it did. I would suppose because it is a powerful and final sentence. What's the comeback? There really isn't one."

His personal perspective:

"Life is fragile. Success is great but that doesn't change the deal. We're here for a while - that's all."